OTHER INFORMATION

Would you like to know a little more about the country you are going to travel to? Take yourself a little time and investigate the following web site: www.slovenia.info.

Language. The official language in Slovenia is the Slovene language. Beside the mother tongue, most Slovenians speak also at least one foreign language, most frequently English, German and Italian.

Electricity. Electricity is supplied as alternating current (220 volts, 50 Hz).

Climate. The 2023 SCS Annual Meeting will take place in the Mediterranean region of Slovenia. In the mid of September the temperatures are expected to range from 19 degree Celsius at night up to 30 degree Celsius during the day. The temperature of the sea should be around 25 degree Celsius, warm enough for swimming.

Currency. The currency in Slovenia is Euro (EUR). There are many exchange offices and banks available for changing money, so rates should not get worse even for less frequent currencies.

Credit Cards. MasterCard/Eurocard, Visa, Diners and American Express are the most frequently used credit cards in Slovenia. They are accepted in hotels, restaurants, stores and taxis.

Public Transport. For general transport, taxis are numerous and readily available. All taxis are equipped with a taximeter. Pay in Euro only the fare shown on the meter. There is a supplementary charge for luggage carried in the boot of the car. Public bus services are frequent. Bus tickets/tokens may be bought at most newspaper kiosks and tobacconists.

Insurance. Responsibility for personal accidents and damage to private property of participants is not accepted by the Organizing Committee of the 2023 SCS Annual Meeting. Participants should therefore make their own arrangements with respect to personal insurance if they wish. Participants from countries having a Health Insurance Convention with Slovenia must bear a valid Certificate of Insurance; others must pay the cost of medical treatment.
